

Dear Friend,

My classmates and I would really appreciate it if you could help us donate money to homeless people.

If you and your company just donate something very small it will make a huge difference to the lives of those people. For example, the money could be used to buy food for the homeless because some people don't have anything to eat. Clothes, blankets and shoes could be given to the homeless to keep themselves warm because sometimes in the morning it is very cold and also at night.

Not only would it be an advantage to the homeless people, it will be benefiting you as well. Everyone would see how good a person you are, and how good the company would be for helping the homeless.

This would also help our community very much. You could be saving children all over the city to not grow up homeless like lots of people are now.

Thank you for considering our request.

Yours Sincerely,
